Announce Three Year College Program

Sub-Zero Here Seven Days

Commerce Club To Dance At St. Francis College

Sixty students, members of St. Joseph's Commerce Club, have been invited to St. Francis College of Joliet to a dinner dance to be held there Saturday, Jan. 17. The affair will be on the order of a dance given by the Commerce Club some weeks ago and to which St. Francis was invited.

About twelve-thirty Sat. noon the students will leave for Joliet and after arriving will be escorted on a tour of the College until three. Then the respective parties will retire to their corners to don their jive shoes only to come out trucking until approximately six. The Sultans of Jive, local impressarios of sweet swing, will provide the rhythms.

After the dance, dinner will be served for all. This will be followed by a blackout in the timetable till ten o'clock, which is business time for the boys from Collegeville.

"We've been looking forward to this dance for some time and I'm sure we'll all have the best of good times," said John Singletary, president of the Commerce Club.

Economics Book Out Today By Father Cletus Dirksen

Off the press today at Catholic University, Washington, was a book entitled "Bibliography of Economic Books by Catholic Authors," written by the Rev. Cletus Dirksen, C.P.P.S., member of the college faculty.

Father Dirksen's book, the only non-doctrinal economic thesis published by the University, has received advance notice in Our Sunday Visitor and the Washington Post.

The college bookstore is taking orders for the book now. Price 50 cents.

Father Ehleringer Dies In Dayton

St. Joseph's College mourns the loss of the Rev. Father Maurice Ehleringer, C.P.P.S., one of the most popular priests in the history of this institution. He passed away last Friday morning at the age of 69 from a heart attack that had confined him to bed in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Dayton, Ohio, for ten days.

Father Ehleringer was born at Sandweiler, Luxemburg, on October 11, 1872. He entered the Society of the Precious Blood on November 2, 1898, made his religious profession September 10, 1909, and was ordained December 21, 1911.

Father Maurice was an orator of gifted qualities and participated in many of St. Joseph's extra-curricular events during his professorship.

Father was a graduate of St. Joseph's during its early years. Later he became a member of the faculty and for 30 years taught Latin, German and French until he retired in 1940.

A solemn Funeral Mass was offered Tuesday at St. Charles Seminary, Carthagen, Ohio.

Albertus Magnus Meets

At the regular meeting of the Albertus Magnus Society held Monday evening, Robert Farrell, junior from Springfield, Ohio, gave a short lecture on the Digestive Fluids. Robert Cavey, sophomore from Pewaukee, Wis., was voted into the society. A group picture of the members was taken for publication in Phase.

Students, upon returning from the Christmas vacation, were greeted by sub-zero weather as college thermometers nose-dived and coal bills soared.

St. Joseph's official weatherman, Clement Kuhns, registered the following temperatures for the week of Jan. 4-10:

Day	Date	Max.	Min.
Sunday	Jan. 4	8	-3
Monday	Jan. 5	8	-3
Tuesday	Jan. 6	22	-3
Wednesday	Jan. 4	12	-7
Thursday	Jan. 8	12	-10
Friday	Jan. 9	18	-3
Saturday	Jan. 10	12	-10

Meanwhile Brother Henry Olberding, superintendent of the powerhouse, and his assistants, Mr. Joe Kanney, his son, Art Kanney, Brother Frank Werling, and Brother Paul Werling, have also noticed the cold wave in the line of coal consumption. During the cold spell, twenty tons of coal have been used a day as compared to ten tons under normal heating conditions. The blowers, which are usually stopped at 9:00 in the evening and turned on at 5:30 in the morning, have been overworked, stopping at 10:30 in the evening, and starting at 4:30 in the morning.

Boilers Work Harder

St. Joseph's heating system includes three Firite stokers of the overfeed spreader type, each primarily operated by a one horsepower motor; three blowers, each operated by a three horsepower motor; and three boilers. At the present the boilers are operating at nearly 100% overload with 120 pounds steam pressure on each, providing ample power in the engine. These are cleaned out and checked for repairs every six weeks. Of the three stokers only two are in constant use, the other being in reserve in case of a breakdown.

Although the sub-zero weather has had its effects throughout the campus, it has had one consoling feature: the opportunity it afforded the ice-skaters to test their skill and the law of gravitation.

Twenty Join Navy Reserve Corps For Duration Of War

To 'get out of the draft' seems to be the watchword of quite a few St. Joe upperclassmen as approximately twenty of them reported to the Dean's office after it was announced that the United States Naval Reserve would accept applications from men nineteen years of age or over, having two years of college.

Interviewing the prospective candidates for both the V-5 and V-7 divisions of the Naval Reserve was Jack Miller, United States Navy, former boxing coach at St. Joseph's.

Last Saturday morning a physical examination, conducted by the head of the Naval Recruiting Station at Lafayette, was held at the college for the Naval Reserve applicants.

Heeding the call of their government in this national crisis, three St. Joe students offered their services and have been accepted into the various branches of our armed forces.

The first to leave for actual duty since September was Wilmont (Curley) Kerr, sophomore from Ft. Wayne, Indiana, who has since become a yeoman in the United States Navy.

Following close on Kerr's heels was Augie Sunagel, a sophomore from Chicago, Illinois, who entered the Marines.

A freshman from Ft. Wayne, Indiana, Robert Burns, enlisted in the Army.

Loring Campbell, Magician, Will Present Show Jan. 23

Fun and mystery will be coupled when Loring Campbell appears in the College Theatre, January 23. Mr. Campbell is nationally known as a magician, ventriloquist and escape artist, but he is essentially a great entertainer. His magic and other talents act merely as fun producers in an entertaining program.

A magician for over twenty years, Mr. Campbell has been personally acquainted with almost every magician including the late Harry Houdini, many of whose tricks he uses.

Able assisted by his wife, Kathryn Campbell, and his humorous dummy companion, Jerry Dolan, Loring Campbell should present one of the most entertaining programs of the year.

Committee Reveals Plan To Accelerate Work For Degrees

St. Joseph's College will close its first semester Friday, January 23, and start regular classes for the second semester Monday, January 26, it was announced today by the V. Rev. Dr. Aloys Dirksen, C.P.P.S., president.

These new dates for semesters were worked out in accordance with a general program to accelerate education in the present emergency. Examinations will be arranged by the various professors and held during class periods while the regular class schedule goes on as usual.

The plan for accelerated semesters was drawn up by a committee composed of the following: Reverends Aloys Dirksen, C.P.P.S., J. B. Kenkel, C.P.P.S., Rufus Esser, C.P.P.S., Walter Pax, C.P.P.S., and Henry Lucks, C.P.P.S. The plan was submitted to the Board of Administration and adopted by that group.

Offer Summer Session

The second semester work should be completed about the middle of May. A summer semester will then be offered, probably starting the second week of June.

All courses will be so arranged that a student will be able to finish his college work in three years if he takes advantage of the summer session. There will be, however, no reduction in requirements and no lowering of standards.

Admit High School Men

As part of the same plan, it is intended that present high school seniors, who have completed seven semesters and show the number of units required for college entrance, may enroll as college freshmen during the second semester which begins January 26. These men will carry certain high school subjects in addition to college work.

Prospective freshmen will also be allowed to register for their first year at the summer session.

The board states that the college "will do all in its power in line with what other colleges are doing to meet the present situation."

DMU Collects Paper

The Dwenger Mission Unit will soon begin a drive to collect waste paper on the campus in the interest of National Defense.

Glee Club Joins Band In Concert On College Theatre Stage Tonight

St. Joseph's College band and glee club collaborated tonight (Wednesday) in a program staged in the College Theatre for the entertainment of the students. The program featured the first campus appearance of both student organizations for the current semester.

A number of solos and specialties by members of the two groups varied the two-part program. The glee club, under the direction of the Rev. Robert Koch, opened the evening's fare with eight selections including "Old King Cole," written by Prof. Tonner, and "Going Home," by Anton Dvorak. Individual performances featured Francis Kinney in a piano solo, Joe Reardon in a vocal solo, and a quartet of Ed

Bandjough, Jack Bivenour, Dan Goldcamp and Ed Fleming.

Following this the Sultans of Jive, Collegeville exponents of torrid rhythms, took up the slack with a number or two. Opening the second half with our country's national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," the band, under the baton of Prof. Paul Tonner, offered nine selections. The musicians featured in their repertoire the "William Tell Overture" and "Melodies from Tchaikowsky." Solos were given by both the trombone and cornet sections with the tunes "Trombone Special" and "Nina Mia" respectively. Jack Murray, drum-major of the band, offered as a specialty, baton technique.

(Editorial)

During a time of war, all of us are liable to lose sight of common objectives. Something that may have seemed so very important to us last year, or three months ago, suddenly becomes blurred. War is so liable to lead us away from our goal into confusion. Blinded momentarily by the awfulness of the struggle, and its nearness, we may do things hurriedly that will ruin our entire plan of life.

There must be a plan of life. We can't stumble through to eternity without knowing what we are looking for, or where we want to go, or what we want to do. Most of us have already decided the answer to those questions. Now we must hold carefully to that plan, that goal.

Holding to normalcy during days of war is not easy. It is easy to talk about pursuing one's normal course of living no matter what happens. It is easy to say: "No matter what comes I will move ahead as usual." But it is not easy to act out those resolutions.

Father Dirksen and Father Lucks, far more qualified than we, suggested the ways and means of pursuing a life course as close to normal as possible in their talks to the students last Saturday. We can only echo their words. Pray hard. Work hard. Fight hard.

Did you make any New Year's resolutions? Personally, we don't put too much faith in New Year's resolutions. They are usually made on the impulse of a moment and broken in the same breath. New Year's resolutions have always seemed to us to lack a certain constancy. Why not make resolutions every day instead of only one day a year? It is a whole lot easier to make a resolution every morning that will cover the following twenty-four hours. Resolutions made on a New Year's eve to cover the next 365 days are often forgotten before the week is out.

GIVE A BOOK! is the plea from the directors of the Victory Book Campaign. Sponsored by the Red Cross, the Library Association, and the U.S.O., the campaigners are seeking books for men in the army, navy and marine corps service.

Look around your room. Take that twenty-five cent pocketbook edition of mystery stories, or that old history book, or that philosophy book you've finished. The Victory Book Campaign can use that kind of works. A man somewhere in the armed forces of our country will be only too glad to have it.

Take your old books to the librarian or give them to any member of the Student Council. The soldiers and sailors and marines are doing so much for all of us. This is our way of paying back a small part of that debt.

ANOTHER YEAR GONE, another year started in the endless chain of time. Did you make any New Year's resolutions? The only one this column commits itself to is the continuance of honest cinematic criticism in the firm hope that the reader wants to know whether a film is good or bad.

The prospect for the motion picture world during the coming year is not nearly so dark as it might be. As a matter of fact, the new year promises bigger and better things. Hollywood is always striving towards real drama. Witness, for example, last week's showing of Bette Davis in "The Little Foxes."

Coming up on the local theatrical calendar, according to the management, is "One Foot in Heaven," which your reviewer saw during the holidays just passed. It is the delightfully true-to-life portrait of a struggling small-town minister. Somehow, after seeing the picture, you have a renewed confidence that all the world's not as bad off as it seems at first glance. Don't miss "One Foot in Heaven."

Now for the reviews.

RITZ: Friday and Saturday

Dashiell Hammett's great mystery story, "The Maltese Falcon," comes to the screen with Humphrey Bogart, Mary Astor, and Peter Lorre. Hammett is the same writer who does the Thin-Man series. This is the story of a private detective who tangles with a band of murderers to learn the fabulous secret of the Maltese Falcon. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday and Tuesday

Jack Oakie, Linda Darnell and Walter Brennan are cast in a burlesque on college football players

entitled "Rise and Shine." The picture is good in spots, not so good in others; funny in places, but not consistently so. Walter Brennan does his usual splendid performance, and Jack Oakie works hard to prove he isn't finished with the picture business. Good relief from heavy dramatic stuff. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Wednesday and Thursday

A new version of the old story, "Smiling Through," finds Jeanette McDonald and Brian Aherne in the leading roles. Most everyone is familiar with the theme of this picture. As for the acting: Jeanette McDonald is her usual self, and you can count on Brian Aherne to come through. Legion Rating: A-1.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday and Tuesday

That man is here again! Jimmy (The Schnozzola) Durante jumps in the mill with the rest of the world's comedians — excepting those who live in the Axis world — and comes through with a feature entitled "You're in the Army Now." The Navy Blues Sextette with Matty Malneck and his orchestra are thrown in for good measure. Legion Rating: A-1.

❖ Campus Capers ❖

Well, here we are back again . . . with more than a few changes made since last we had the pleasure of putting this out . . . But Oh my!!! What a cold reception everyone received on his return to this institution of higher learning . . . Especially those who pulled in on that late train — among whom we hear was 'Canary' Fannon — Really though, was he under the seat, fellows????

As we said before there have been quite a few changes . . . Dick Haffner and Bill Dieruf have gone off the market . . . but not the permanent way that PHASE Ed. James J. Ikovic (so his new key chain shows) is going to go on Feb. 14 . . . Congrats and stuff — and may we wonder if next year's editor will follow right along Herber & Ikovic's path?

Now a little note of last year (41). At the Great Lakes-St. Joe game one of the Bluejackets paid Knobby Walsh the compliment of his (Walsh) "being the best I've hit up against so far this year," . . . and brother, they hit up against some good ones before the Pumas rolled into Hammond . . .

Now let's get a little educational—Huh? Take a crack at WIND on Sat. morn and cock an ear to presentation of an actual parole board hearing . . . And may we recommend Sammy Kaye's version of 'Dear Mom' . . .

And a couple of the first-year men didn't take long in trotting to town after vacation . . . To Joe Cech (who has undoubtedly supplanted Schoder as No. 1 in the frosh) and Chas. Landry go the laurels of 'really getting around' . . . Things must be getting tough when the navy had to go and take our paper boy . . . But for a while Drexel was supplied with papers that the bus threw off but weren't picked up . . . That, my friends, is service . . .

Also there seems to have been a sudden rise in the use of glasses since the Naval Reserve exam . . . Some trying to keep 'em good; others trying to get their's better (eyes we mean) . . . And Augie gone, and what a man for the Marines . . . While Bill Carlos is back again . . . Or did you notice that, Casey?

Even though it is a new year we noticed that there still is that special interest of the Dean of Students in certain ones every Sunday at noon . . . with that one dorm in Drexel taking it again . . .

Students Discuss Plan For Accelerated Education

By John Ford

American industry has been accelerated that our people may taste the fruits of a just victory. Now education has been accelerated that youth, even in this emergency, may enjoy the advantages of an education.

The programs being adopted by a great many of our colleges and universities throughout the country is, to say the least, most commendable. It is being drafted only to help the youth of our country. It is an emergency measure that complies with an emergency. However, the question comes: How will it affect education? By that is meant will the student have the same well-rounded education after attending a full three-year course as he did when attending the four year? It was this question that STUFF asked the students this week.

Paul Brunton, a freshman from Decatur, Ind., said: "I think that it will demand more effort on the part of the student but the same material will be imparted and the courses most probably will not be slighted."

Another freshman, Ray Hamert, from Wapakoneta, Ohio, said that he felt that the student would get just as much, if not more. At times students lose much during summer vacation that they must review when school reopens.

Bob O'Neil, a sophomore from Goodland, Ind., expressed a different view. "I don't believe," said Bob, "that the student will get as much out of his courses. Profs will necessarily have to cut their programs in order to speed up. Students won't be able to assimilate the matter properly."

"I believe that it will be harder on the student, but the hours of class will be the same. It should not make much difference." These were the words of Leo Stofko, a freshman from Lorain, Ohio.

Ray Galvin, a junior from Lexington, Ky., says, "I think that it is a good idea but it will hinder education to some extent."

A sophomore, Leonard Herriges, from Columbus, Ind., expressed this

Senior Sketches

By John Feicht

There is a senior who holds the office of president of the Raleigh Club. During his regime he has given much of his time to the betterment of the organization. In case there is any doubt in your mind, we are writing of Charley Hankish, that popular young fellow from Bluffton, Ohio. Hank spends many of his hours in the club rooms where he is very popular among his fellow members. Since the initiation Charley is quite well known by the majority of the first-year men.

This bundle of personality (that isn't the only reason he holds the nickname of Jumbo) is majoring in Economics. He would like very much to return to the Ford Company in Detroit, where he worked last summer, but it seems an impossibility at the present. When Hank completes that term in the army, whether he enlists or is drafted, he will undoubtedly be a successful business executive upholding the name of his alma mater.

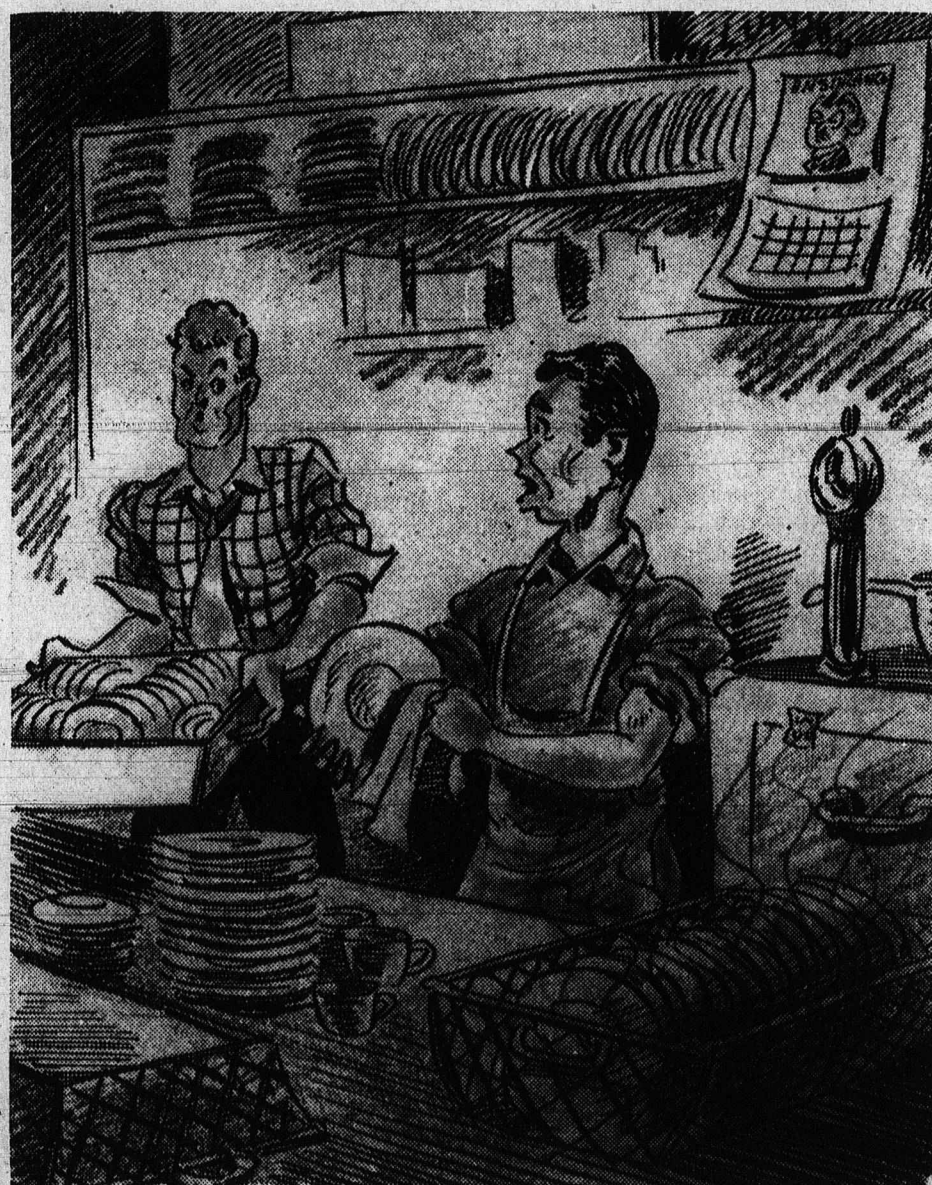

During his years on the campus Charley has been very active in the Raleigh and Camera Clubs, and in his freshman year was voted president of the class by his classmates.

view: "The planned program will affect the amount of material gathered by the student. He will not have the time and opportunity to understand and be able to apply the lessons learned."

So went the opinions. Those who found no fault in the program were naturally satisfied. Those who did find flaws considered them as necessary evils.

Win Five, Lose Four Is Record As Pumas Fall Before Indiana

Here is a brief summary of the Puma encounters on the hardwood since the last edition of STUFF:

December 18: St. Joe was edged out in the last stages of play by the Great Lakes All-Americans 52-48. Hoffman and Walsh led the squad with 14 points apiece. It was Andres and Anderson for the sailors with 15 and 14 respectively. St. Joe led 31-22 at the half.

December 20: Hoffman again led the point punch with 16 to help the Pumas walk over Earlham 51-38 in the Fieldhouse. Jiggs Huysman saw his best game to date, registering 5 and 2. Half score: S. J. 26; E. 19.

With approximately three weeks of Xmas vacation under their belts the Pumas returned to the cage business in January. Last Friday Toledo U. handed them their third setback in eight starts with a final reading of Toledo 45, St. Joe 30. Gerber had a hot night for the Rockets which netted 18 points. Hoffman was again high with 11 for the Pumas. Toledo led at the half-time period 26-12.

The record now stands at five wins against four defeats as this week's card brings the Dienhart boys face to face with Central Normal, Evansville and Rider College.

St. Joe dropped their fourth game in nine tries last Monday night to Indiana State 56-40, in the Terre Haute net bowl. The Hoosiers backed by their veteran roster, ran up a 25-16 lead in the first period.

Bernie Hoffman brought his season's total to 109 points by tallying 16 in this tilt. Bob Avelis led for State with 15.

Academy Splits Four Tilts Over Holidays

While the rest of the Academy students were enjoying the early part of their holiday vacation, the Academy Cub basketball quintet met Brook and Fort Wayne Central Catholic. They lost to Brook, 23-15, and to Fort Wayne, 22-21, on Dec. 21 and 22, respectively.

In the Brook encounter, Brading salvaged nine points for the Academy. Greene garnered a total of 11 points for top honors in the Central tilt.

January 7, the Cubs took the road to Demotte where they emerged victors on the long end of a 37-33 score. Brading again took high honors by hitting the hoop for a total of 16 points.

Sunday afternoon, January 11, the Academy met South Bend Catholic on their home floor. Again they won, this time 33-29.

St. Joseph's (33)	South Bend (29)

"Should athletes be given special consideration by draft boards?" This was a question asked by one of our leading monthly magazines. A group of sports experts came up with an 80% negative answer, and 77% of the fans approached were also against favoring the stars in the selective service system.

Many advocated some leniency towards the players such as deferring college seniors who participated in sports and permitting professional baseball players to finish their season once they had started. Such suggestions, however, were made a few weeks before the declaration of war, which declaration certainly placed things in a different light.

That dastardly Japanese attack on our Pacific possessions left only one objective for the American people — victory and peace. Games of all kinds will have to be subordinated. Sports are a great American treat and they would give the minds of those at home a needed diversion, but our country cannot spare a man, not even another Dempsey, Ruth, or Thorpe, if he can fit into either our army of combat or production.

When the production for the armed forces of this country shifts into high gear we will be able to blast the Japs out of the ball park. As far as Hitler is concerned, the vast Russian army is driving him back daily.

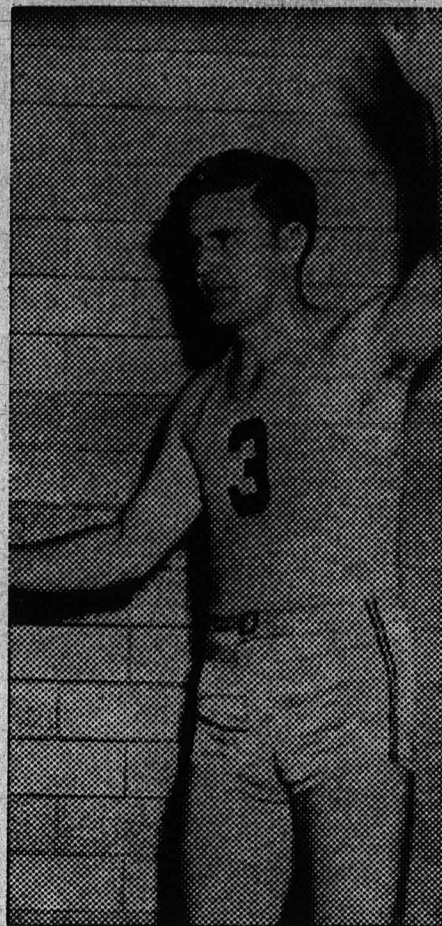

100% cooperation of all the allied powers, and it won't be long until we are again hearing the old familiar cry, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." Fall Saturdays will again find the college campuses in gala decorations for the big games. Fans will be speeding towards the stadium in new cars with brand new tires. There will be no rubber shortage to interfere with the golf and tennis players' fun. All sports will be blossoming in their respective seasons. Make your next toast to a lightning allied victory.

The following boys have disappeared from the St. Joe athletic horizon to take part in the nation's war program: Nick Scollard, All-State footballer, is now a defense cop in Indianapolis; Bob Burns, Champion Golden Gloves boxer, has a defense job in Ft. Wayne, where he is training for this year's Golden Gloves tournament; Augie Sunagel, powerful tackle on last fall's grid machine, is in the Marines; Curly Kerr, peppy cheerleader, joined the Navy. Day by day the number of St. Joe men in the services mounts.

The Community Students went to bat for the whole school by forming a cheering section for the St. Joe-Earlham game, Dec. 20, while all the secular students were home on vacation. Reports are that one could hardly tell the difference; the lads from Xavier Hall really gave out.

Jiggs Huysman, towering Sophomore center, is without a doubt the most improved ball player on the Puma five. The best game St. Joe has played so far this year was in holding the mighty Great Lakes netters to a four-point victory.

Invaders From New Jersey

Shown above are Owen and Coleman, two of the stars from Rider College, Trenton, New Jersey, who will face the Pumas in the fieldhouse January 19.

Evansville And Rider College Next On List For Dienhart's Men

Central Normal's veteran aggregation of Jackson, Younger, Shaw, Hanson, and Bell will appear against the Pumas on the local floor tonight.

To date the Danville quintet has beaten Anderson, Huntington, and Valparaiso and have lost to Taylor College and the Great Lakes team.

St. Norbert's, January 22, and Youngstown, March 3, both away, have been added to St. Joseph's basketball card. The Youngstown game will be played the night after the Pumas meet John Carroll in Cleveland. This increases the schedule to 24 games.

Judging from the scores of the Great Lakes games (C. N. lost to the sailors 48-32) the home netters should take the conference tilt.

Gus Doerner Again
On Saturday the Pumas travel to the southern part of the state to meet their old rivals, Evansville. Gus Doerner, one of the State's top scorers for the past two years, will be in action again as the two teams renew their feud.

This is the game that Hoosiers from all over the state look forward to each year. The rivalry that has sprung up between the two teams has made the game one of the most colorful collegiate tilts of the year. Evansville took the game last year in an overtime period by one point.

Rider College Here
Indiana will get a glimpse of some Eastern style of play next Monday as the St. Joe five entertains Rider College of Trenton, New Jersey, in the Collegeville Fieldhouse.

The Eastern squad dropped three of their early season starters to Uncle Sam's service crews during the holiday season. Latest reports from the East set the Rider record at six wins in nine starts. Duke turned them back 55-29; Columbia U. and Geneva College also defeated the invaders.

Probable starters for Rider in Monday's game: Owen and Ackmann, forwards; Farr, center; Basco and Coleman, guards.

Hoffman High Point Man

Possibilities of St. Joe having another contender for Indiana's high scoring honors looked promising last Monday night as Bernie Hoffman, stellar forward of the Puma cage squad brought his season's total for nine games to 109 points.

Hoffman, a product of basketball-minded and player-producing Jasper, Indiana, is a junior, and has been in the starting lineup for the past two years. Bernie goes the limit of ball games at top steam and is considered a valuable floorman as well as a smooth ball handler.

freshman shows up well in intramural ball. High school Coach Dick Scharf is watching the intramural tilts for outstanding freshman performers.

The following are the 21 who now comprise the freshman squad: Jones, Loogootee, Ind.; G. Hodge, Petersburg, Ind.; Mikan, Joliet, Ill.; Theis, Bloomington, Ill.; Schrenk, Seymour, Ind.; Roberts, Milwaukee, Wis.; Dunn, Crawfordsville, Ind.; Ellspermann, Evansville, Ind.; Mullins, Bloomington, Ill.; Schoder, Battle Creek, Mich.; Wojcik, Chicago, Ill.; Kupper, Louisville, Ky.; Zandee, Battle Creek, Mich.; Reinman, Peips, Ohio; Sonnefeld, Cambridge, Ohio; Cooper, Chicago, Ill.; Moening, Ottowa, Ohio; Stauct, Whiting, Ind.; and Ortman, Kankakee, Ill.

Games left on the rhinies' schedule are: Jan. 22, Butler, here (tentative); Jan. 31, Butler, there; Feb. 9, Ind. State, here; Feb. 13, Ind. Tech, there.

Illinois Tech First Go On '42 Boxing Schedule

The boxing team has been greatly weakened for their first match against Illinois Tech at Chicago, Jan. 23, by the loss of two reliable fighters, Bob Burns, middleweight, and Augie Suangel, heavyweight.

All positions on the squad are open to anyone wishing to tryout, according to Coach Hod Parker. Hod invites any student interested in boxing to come up to the training quarters on the balcony of the fieldhouse even if he doesn't want to tryout for the team.

Other bouts definitely set are against Illinois Tech here, Feb. 13; Valparaiso there, Feb. 4, and here, Feb. 25. Three or four additional matches are expected to be made.

Intra-Mural Summary Shows Team Standing

Having completed its second week of play, the St. Joe Intra-mural basketball schedule found but seven undefeated teams in the league which consists of about twenty-two teams.

McKenna's and Runchey's from Seifert Hall, Bissler's and Martel's from Noll Hall, and Shine's, Sherman's and Boyle's from Drexel Hall comprise the seven teams of distinction.

In the thirteen games played last week, the undefeated McKennas outpointed Naugzemis' boys, 25-12, and Kelly's by a 17-15 count; Runchey's, the other unbeaten Seifert Hall quintet, beat Knisley's, 33-24, and Bullock's, 30-27. Knisley's trimmed Feicht's crew, 35-21, and Kelly's licked Piotrowski's, 30-19.

Bissler's of Noll whipped Smith's, 30-16; Martel's beat Ploszek's, 37-15, and Smith's won over Kauffman's, 23-6. The Smithmen's defense proved to be very effective as the losers could garner but six free throws while making no field goals.

In Drexel it was Gladen over Wleklinski, 31-14; Sherman over Cahill, 44-19, and Shine over Bill Smith, 37-30, while Gladen's forfeited to Boyle and Wleklinski to Sherman, both scores being 2-0.

St. Joe students received the first glimpse of their highly touted freshman basketball team Friday night as it impressively downed Indiana Tech of Fort Wayne, 34 to 30.

Coach Brother Henry Kosalko used as his starting lineup, Roberts and Theis at forward, Mikan at Center, G. Hodge and Schrenk at guard, but substituted frequently throughout the game, giving the frosh a chance to show themselves.

Tech led at the quarter, 5 to 2, and at the half, 12 to 11, but the freshmen hit their stride in the second half, holding a 25 to 20 lead at the end of the third quarter.

G. Hodge, Roberts and Mikan played impressive defensive games, while the offense was pretty evenly divided up. G. Hodge and Mullens paced St. Joe with 6 points each; Towins was high for Tech with 16 points.

The Academy Corner

By Joe Wolford

With the fury of the wind and the snow the St. Joe academy men tramped their way back to the portals of the administration building in quest of the treasure of knowledge. By the end of January they will have either found or lost their "Goldbug"; for then, examinations shall either wreck havoc among them like a German panzer division or glorify them as another conqueror.

Another Christmas, another year, both passed during the vacation-time. Perchance the weather was cold, and the thought of war, bitter, but without doubt there was a certain warmth in each student's heart as he greeted his parents after a long six-weeks' absence. And too, the parents were very glad to see their boys because many fellows are now sporting new watches, clothes, typewriters, and several received defense bonds. Apparently, all had a superb New Year, for the fellows are still talking about the parties that they attended on the Eve.

Something New and Different has been added: While the ground has taken on a celestial covering of white; the dormitory beds have taken on an apparent reddish hue. During vacation new and beautiful bedspreads with large floral designs were placed on the beds. The spreads have added a more home-like, cozy touch and are the talk of the academy.

Ice skating has been renovated in abundant form by the return of winter. Many Sonja Heinie aspirants are seen daily during recreation time making picturesque figure eights. Some of the beginners who are adept at catching on are seen borrowing pillows and bed-clothing for purposes unworthy to be printed. On the whole recreation has not halted in the least at St. Joe regardless of where the mercury lies.

A day before the beginning of Christmas vacation the academy alumni of last year challenged Brother Louis' All-Stars to a basketball game. The climax of the game was the joining of Fr. Koller to the alumni cause and Bro. Louis to the All-Stars' cause. The game was a battle of wits with plenty of action. Then, with seconds to go, the alumni were ahead by one point until Bro. Louis was fouled. The foul was good and the game went into an overtime. In the overtime, the All-Stars gained ten points to win 36-26.

Minute Observations:

Christmas came to Paul Wehrle this year in the form of a tonsillectomy. Poor Paul returned two days late for school. While most fellows may still be writing 1941 on their letterheads, Aubrey Serewicz habitually heads his with 1939. The only joy of cold weather is the enjoyment of seeing it getting warmer. Incidentally, there are eleven Roberts in the academy, four are on the basketball team first five, and two are on the reserve team. Since Christmas tide the mail from Lindenwood College has increased readily; in fact, Bob Millea is apparently monopolizing on the letters.

Give A Book! Is Plea Of Campaign For Association

A Victory Book Campaign, sponsored by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross and the U.S.O., got underway January 12, according to the Rev. Clarence Schuerman, C.P.P.S., college librarian.

Students are asked to cooperate in the campaign to furnish reading material for soldiers, sailors, and marine corps men by handing in their old books to the library or to a representative of the Student Council.

Popular works of fiction—including the pocket-book editions—are in great demand. Any other used books, embracing all the fields of history, philosophy and art, can be used.

Kilty Trumpeteers Appear For Concert In Theatre

Alumni Theater was the scene of light and classical music as the Kilty Trumpeteers rendered their talents on the piano, trombone and trumpet, January 7.

On tour since August, 1941, the Kilty troop represent the National Program Service of Des Moines, Ia. They have achieved a well-rounded musical education, and at the present time are enrolled in Drake University and the University of Iowa.

The Kilty Trumpeteers were greatly hindered at their performance by the unfortunate illness of their first trumpeteer.

Rev. Lucks Brings Story Of Educational Meeting

Shortly after the New Year, Rev. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., Dean of Studies, attended several important meetings in Baltimore, Maryland.

Jan. 2, Father Lucks was present at the 28th annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges. Theme of the meeting was American Education and World Responsibility.

The National Conference of College and University Presidents on Higher Education and the War, was held Jan. 3 and 4. The theme of the speech given by Paul V. McNutt, Administrator of the Federal Security Agency, who opened the Conference, was the importance not only of technologists in the war, but also of men well trained in the fields of Economics, Sociology, Philosophy, and Religion.

Speaking for the Navy Department, Joseph W. Barker outlined the Navy's plans for enlisting college men and then reassigning them back to their respective colleges for completion of their courses.

Brigadier-General Lewis Hershey, Director of Selective Service, spoke for the Army, but offered no plan for delaying entrance of college men into the Service, excepting those majoring in fields such as Medicine, Dentistry, Physics, Chemistry, and related subjects which will train men for immediate service in the armed forces.

Both the Army and the Navy representatives stressed the point that college men should be instructed to remain in school until called. Furthermore, both asked the presidents of colleges to make it known to the students that they would serve their country best by advancing their education as much as possible.

The second session's main theme was the accelerating of the college program so that it would be possible for young men to finish their college courses before reaching the age of drafting. The plan suggested a program whereby the present four-year course can be compressed into three years. A set of resolutions addressed to the President of the United States and the War-Time Commission was drawn up.
